Quilt Shows

Quilts of Valour Canada has Commercial General Liability Insurance. Its' primary function is to protect the QOVC from claims for bodily harm & property damage.

The policy ensures that the Board and volunteers are covered while acting in an official capacity, when QOVC occupies space not owned by us but used with permission (eg: quilt shows).

Booth holders at Quilt Shows are most often covered under polices held by the quilt show host or the venue where the show is taking place. Occasionally, QOVC may be required to provide proof of our own insurance to be able to participate in the event.

Our policy allows us coverage for up to 10 separate events on an annual basis. To be compliant with our policy holder QOVC must keep track of these requests.

If you plan to participate in a local quilt show and your participation requires proof of general liability insurance, you must first contact the Board to obtain insurance confirmation. You will be required to provide the following information:

- Name of quilt show
- Name of Host Organization
- Venue/place the quilt show is being held
- Dates of the quilt show

Space agreements/contracts, if required, may only be signed or authorized by the Board.

Other Events

When QOVC representatives attend an event, for example a guild sponsored sew day at a location such as a church hall or a quilt shop etc., we are not the hosts

(even if the event is to benefit QOVC). The insurance coverage for the facility or business is in effect should there be a claim.

If QOVC hosts the sew day, although the facility is insured, we as an organization would also require Commercial General Liability Insurance coverage for each event - similar to the quilt show insurance.
